- Students illustrated their favourite story in a creative manner to depict their ideas and understanding of the sequence of events. They were given an insight on how illustration aids comprehension especially among junior readers. The artistic activity was well-enjoyed by all.
- Dramatization allows students to develop confidence, express emotions, and learn teamwork. By presenting the drama, they gained deeper understanding of their own emotions and expressed themselves effectively and creatively through their performance. This activity also boosted their communication skills in the areas like fluency and voice modulation
