- Remarks if any: Students sharpened their communication skills by presenting news in an expressive and well-modulated voice by participating in the news reading activity.
- A slogan can say more in less words because of its catchy wordings. The students displayed their linguistic creativity as they framed catchy slogans for various fun carnival games.
- Stories are always inviting and they take us into beyond the limits of physical boundaries. A story is as good as the skill of story-telling. The students understood and practiced the nuances of good story-telling by narrating their favourite mythological/ moral stories in the class. Peer group feedback helped them enhance their skill at story-telling.
